FOREWORD

TRADE PRICES CURRENT of American First Editions is issued as a trade tool for the rare and second-hand book trade. Its reception by the trade has assured its publishers that a real need is being met. This new volume prints the prices of the seasons of 1937-38, 1938-39, 1939-40, 1940-41. Thus is made available a four-year range of prices, a record of the titles offered for sale by dealers and how many times each was offered. In these four years over 4,000 different American first editions were listed for sale in the catalogs of well-established dealers and nearly 20,000 prices recorded.

Users of this index will interpret the facts presented according to experience. The range of prices in most cases, of course, means variation in condition and also in the time and place of sale. The special values attached to association copies must vary with the character of the association interest and the relative scarcity of association items of that author. Limited editions all of which are signed are not marked "a".

Of some authors listed in Johnson's "American First Editions," edited by Jacob Blanck, no books have come up in recent years. This can be due either to the scarcity of copies or to the lack of demand for them. Books valued at less than one dollar are seldom cataloged by dealers. Many items which come to light in a year are sold without cataloging. No auction records are included, and additional price information can be found in American Book Prices Current. A large part of the titles which find their way into booksellers' catalogs will not have appeared at auction.

An index of this character has its own special value to the active dealer. The prices listed are actual retail prices. The number of copies of an author or a title which appear in a year is an indication of the availability or of the public's interest.

Total of Catalogs indexed		Total of Dealers indexed
1937 - 38	54	1937 - 38	34
1938 - 39	67	1938 - 39	37
1939 - 40	47	1939 - 40	39
1940 - 41	42	1940 - 41	30

The prices for each of the four years are separated by this symbol /. Where there is no price for a particular year, the space will be filled with a dash. A price which dates back before 1937 is shown in parenthesis.

Listings are alphabetical by author, then chronological by date of publication.

For fuller descriptions see Johnson's "American First Editions," fourth edition, edited by Jacob Blanck.

Repaired copies are omitted, but not those which have slight imperfections such as might be expected from their period of issue.
